

Nuvox • Greenville, SC

CriticalSpace Solutions originally designed and built the Network Surveillance Center for NuVox, a regional telephony company, in 2001. Since then a rapid increase in their subscriber base and coverage area has changed the mission-critical nature of the facility. NuVox required 24/7 display capability, and they once again turned to CriticalSpace Solutions for the design-build upgrade. Not only does the new configuration (1x5 67' array of Barco display wall cubes) handle their current requirements, it also is positioned to serve their expanding future needs.
